JOBLESS GENERATION (THE)

Director(s): Philippe BARON

A portrait of three young people from Rennes looking for their first full-time jobs. Parents tell how their children struggle to get by in a world of work, which refuses to accept them. The film puts flesh, bones and feeling into words, which have become part of everyday vocabulary: "job insecurity", "flexibility", "the job market", "youth unemployment". Being young and jobless bears no relation to what older people feel when unemployed.
