

MEDIA PI, A MEDIA PROMISED TO THE DEAF

Director(s): Veronique BERTHONNEAU

Writer(s): Véronique BERTHONNEAU

At a time when France is rocked by the terror attacks, the lack of information in LSF, French Sign Language, in the media is glaring.

To set things right, a group of deaf people, including actress and activist Noémie Churlet, understands the urgency of creating an all-online general information site, fully bilingual (written French and LSF).

After two years of tireless work with her volunteer team, this innovative medium that she called Media Pi is well on the way to see the day. We follow her at this pivotal moment, during content development, research for financial support, for partnerships and subscriptions.

Will Noémie's tenacity and contagious energy be enough to bring Media Pi to life on the web?
