

08. THE TASTE OF THE SEA

Director(s): Veronique BERTHONNEAU

Writer(s): Véronique BERTHONNEAU

On the water's edge, to the flow of the waves, let's share the daily life of Guillaume, a passionate oyster and mussel farmer.

Guillaume is deaf. With his brother, he manages the large family farm in Normandy, France. It's a particularly suitable area thanks to the climate, the flow of the tides and the quality of the water.
As we observe him at work, with his family, with his colleagues, a complex and little-known reality is emerges.
How to produce the oysters and mussels that arrive on our plates during the end-of-year festivities?
A film that was made to the rhythm of the relentless surf of the sea, as close as possible to the elements, right at the heart of physical and collective labour...
